

Company Introduction

Zhengzhou Orient Power Co., Ltd a high voltage insulator supplier, was established in China, which is the famous porcelain country in the world. By favourable geography advantage and superior quality and competitive price, we have established good business relationship with more than 20 countries around the world.

Our Company has established a firm stand on electrical power insulators. After several years development, we have developed a strong technical support and sales force based on manufacturing. We can provide products according to GB, IEC, AS, BS, ANSI, DIN and other international standards. In addition to providing products according to our own design, we also provide our superior technical assistance to our customers to develop new products according to various needs of them.

We have passed the ISO9001 quality certification, and gained the import and export rights. All the products provided by us are under strict quality control. Each batch of the products will be under inspection and testing according to international standard before delivery.

Our main product scope is porcelain insulators, silicon rubber insulators, porcelain bushings, power fittings for power transmission lines and substations. Except this, we also provide whole project contract service. We represent products of our co-operating factories covering cables and accessories, conductors, steel towers and steel construction. We have experts on these products in cooperating design, production and testing and each product will be under our full control. We do this to give customer full package service.

We welcome clients at home and abroad cooperating with us. In the aim of high quality, our company has been centering on customers, and offering best products and comfortable service for you.

